Canyon Zoning Draws Ire

Some neighbors of Sundance Resort claim county officials are quicker to approve building plans for Robert Redford than for others, but Utah County Zoning Administrator Jeff Mendenhall says his office is only enforcing a 1976 zoning.

And, says Mendenhall, his office looks for ways to make the private lots buildable.

"Robert Redford is the lord of the manor up there and they'll do anything for him," says Robert F. Bennion, "but anybody who doesn't have influence to that degree, they will block them."

Redford announced plans in February for what could become $40 million worth of growth. A rehearsal hall, pavilion, conference center and condominiums are to be included.

Pope at Roman Catholic Headquarters

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Diana, forbidden by Queen Elizabeth II from attending a Roman Catholic mass, had a private audience with Pope John II Monday and exchanged gifts with the pontiff.

The royal couple, on a 17-day tour of Italy, met with John Paul for 35 minutes in his Apostolic Palace study.

Vatican sources said the prince, who will become head of the Anglican Church of England when he succeeds to the crown, had arranged to attend mass Tuesday at 7 a.m. in the pope's private chapel.

But Buckingham Palace wrote to one of the pope's private secretaries saying "it was not possible," the sources said.

Britain and the Vatican established full diplomatic relations only three years ago after a rift of more than four centuries.

King Henry VIII broke with the Catholic Church in the 16th century when he was refused a divorce from Katharine of Aragon to marry Anne Boleyn. Under the Act of Supremacy of 1534, he and his successors became head of the Church of England.

"I didn't realize that in the Vatican archives they had letters from Henry VIII to Anne Boleyn," Prince Charles commented to a seminarian from the English College in Rome after the audience.

It was Charles' first audience with the pope at the Vatican.

Nicaragua Supplies Salvadoran Rebels

By United Press International

A Salvadoran rebel commander who defected, saying "war is not the correct road," claims that Cuba and Nicaragua supply El Salvador's guerrillas with weapons, training and logistical support.

"Nicaragua is a directional center of the FMLN (Farabundo Marti Liberation Front)," Napoleon Romero, the highest-ranking rebel leader to surrender to the U.S.-backed army in two years, said in a statement Monday.

Nicaragua "is where they give us advice, the Sandinistas as well as the Cubans," he said.
